

JAMES C. JAO, NCARB, NABAR, SAEFA, AIA, RA

Often known as the “Urban Doctor” in China for his in-depth knowledge in Chinese planning, Mr. Jao has written two books in China: “A Decade of Planning Experience in China”, and “Searching the Soul of Chinese Cities”. Both books are widely read by the Chinese officials, and they have profoundly impacted Chinese planning policies and regulations.

He is the CEO of the US Long On Group, and the founding president of J.A.O. Design International (www.jaodesign.com), founding President of the China Planning and Development Institute (CPDI, www.cpd.org). He is also the C.E.O. of China Real Estate Design League (CREDL) (www.sjlm.net.cn).

Mr. Jao was the first Asian-American Commissioner who served New York City Planning Commission (CPC) between 1990 and 1994. He is a certified architect by NCARB, NABAR, and is a registered architect with the NY, NJ, CA, PA, MA, GA, CT in USA, and China.
